

Introduction to Clinical Teaching for Educators in the School of Pathology

Friday 08 October & Friday 12 November 2010

Fee: £150.00

Venue: The course will take place at a venue in Central London

This two-day course will help you to teach effectively in a busy clinical setting and understand how best to promote the learning and development of your junior colleagues, but will not cover areas such as lecturing and presentation skills. It covers the effective use of work-place based assessments using Case Based Discussion as a practical example.

This course is essential for all consultants and final year trainees working within a pathology speciality with a clinical or educational supervisor role.

The course relates to the following areas of the London Deanery Professional Development Framework for Supervisors: It will cover the skills you are required to have in order to be a Clinical Supervisor with some very basic skills about supporting and monitoring the educational process and dealing with trainees in difficulty which may need to be further developed in an educational supervisor role.

Ensuring safe and effective patient care

Establishing and maintaining an environment for learning

Teaching and facilitating learning

Enhancing learning through assessment

Supporting and monitoring educational progress

Guiding personal and professional development

Course aims

To help delegates to teach effectively in a busy clinical setting by;

- Creating the right environment
- Identifying learning opportunities
- Teaching through questioning
- Giving effective feedback
- Planning for on the job teaching

Feedback by previous delegates on what they took away from the course

"All of it! – One of the best courses I've been on. Nice to meet other PH colleagues and see styles of attitudes evolve over the day!"

"There are simple steps that I can take to make my teaching/training role much more effective and rewarding".

"Improvement in my technique of micro teaching. Improving the way I give feedback. The need for reflection in my clinical practice as well as my role as an Educational Supervisor".

"To interact more with the learner and that teaching is a two way process".
