These workshops are aimed at medical educators working at all levels in universities and clinical practice who are interested in joining the Academy of Medical Educators (AoME).

Membership of the AoME is open to all those involved full or part time in medical education, whatever their professional background or subject discipline. Members and Fellows currently include: educational supervisors and clinical tutors, College Examiners, GP Trainers, veterinary and dental educators, medical school managers and senior administrators, biomedical and social science educators in medical schools and researchers in medical education. You do not have to be clinically qualified to join the Academy.

The workshop is led by an AoME assessor. It provides an overview of the AoME professional recognition process and guidance to completing your application. By the end of the workshop you will have completed a draft application form and have a sound understanding of what you need to complete and submit a successful application.
